If you or the other person would be hurt, think of a new way to say it.

Say it in a calm, strong voice.

Then think of a new way to say it.

Decide how the person you are speaking to might feel.

Think about how you would feel if someone said that to you.

Decide what you want to say.