

Response to Intervention – RtI

Response to intervention uses a tiered approach to meet the needs of all students to engender academic success. TIER 1 represents supports available to all students. TIER 2 supports are offered to students who are still not making progress. TIER 3 are intensive interventions for students who need a very high level of resources or services.

Reagan High School staff members strive to work closely with our parents to enhance student success. Please realize that parental involvement is critical to ensure that a student continually makes progress in school.

Here are some essential ways that you can support your teen for greater academic success:

Parental Involvement at Tier 1

- ✓ Frequently communicate with the teachers at Reagan High School
- ✓ Attend our many school events, especially Parent-Teacher Conferences
- ✓ Ask your teen about school on a daily basis
- ✓ Monitor their homework to discern if they need additional help
- ✓ Speak well of their classroom teachers
- ✓ Meet with Reagan staff members if your teen is having difficulties
- ✓ Praise your teen for good work and effort
- ✓ Participate in School Governance Council parent meetings
- ✓ Participate in school district committees and trainings

Parental Involvement at Tier 2

- ✓ Do all of the above!
- ✓ Collaborate with Reagan High School staff to set goals for your teen
- ✓ Participate in parent support groups that can offer added guidance
- ✓ Discuss progress with Reagan High School teachers on Tier 2 interventions
